

How to arrange outdoor base stations

Overview

Do you need an outdoor grilling station?

However, it's not enough to just have a grill; an outdoor grilling station is a must-have setup that makes cooking outside with your grill easier than ever before. Although some grills come with their own stations, you may want to build one if you want more counter and prep space for food, as well as serving areas for guests.

Should you build a DIY grilling station?

Although some grills come with their own stations, you may want to build one if you want more counter and prep space for food, as well as serving areas for guests. Old lumber, pallets, and cinder blocks are almost zero-cost materials that can be used with your grill to create your DIY grilling station.

Can a grill station be a winning backyard idea?

Even a basic grill station can be a winning backyard idea if you get the basics right. 'The most important element of a grill station is a grill that has the temperature range and versatility needed to support the cooking techniques you enjoy most' says Faulk. 'Beyond that, you need to make it a functional space.

What factors should you consider when planning an outdoor grill station?

Since your outdoor grill station is, well, outside, there are a number of factors to consider when planning for it. 'Considerations such as solar orientation, view, and cover for weather (sun/rain depending) are issues that are specific to outdoor kitchen design,' says Matt Baran of Baran Studio Architecture. 6. Create a freestanding grill station.
