What is a lithium battery management system (BMS)?

Many people are familiar with a Battery Management System (BMS), which should be installed with every lithium battery. A BMS monitors the voltages of the individual lithium cells inside a battery and has the ability to shut everything down in an emergency. A BBMS, on the other hand regulates the charging of the lithium batteries.

Why does a lithium battery need a BMS?

Lithium batteries, such as those in the Giter brand, are different in that they require a Battery Management System (BMS) for several reasons. The BMS is critical for the protection and maintenance of their cells and for the safe charge and discharge of energy.

What is BMS in lithium ion phosphate battery?

The Battery Management System (BMS) is a crucial component of a Lithium Iron Phosphate Battery (also known as  $\text{LiFePO}_4$  or LFP battery). It protects the battery from over-voltage, under-voltage, over current, and short-circuit. Although  $\text{LiFePO}_4$  batteries do not have the risk of thermal runaway or explosion like other lithium batteries, the BMS is still essential.
