

Philippines smart energy storage battery company

Overview

Can battery energy storage systems transform business in the Philippines?

Battery Energy Storage Systems have the potential to transform how commercial and industrial companies in the Philippines manage their energy needs. With benefits ranging from cost reduction to energy supply stability, BESS is a compelling solution. While the initial investment may vary, the long-term advantages are undeniable.

Which country has the largest battery energy storage system?

(Photo from SMGP) The historic province of Bataan, 127 kilometers (78 miles) from the capital city Manila, hosts the Philippines' first and largest Battery Energy Storage System (BESS) owned and operated by San Miguel Corporation's (SMC) Global Power Holdings Corp. (SMGP).

What is a battery energy storage system?

Battery Energy Storage Systems, commonly known as BESS, are advanced energy storage solutions designed to store electricity generated during periods of low demand or from renewable sources such as solar panels or wind turbines.

What is Masinloc battery energy storage?

We started our venture into battery energy storage technology in 2018 when we acquired the 10 MW Masinloc Battery Energy Storage System (BESS) of the Masinloc Power Plant from AES Philippines. The Masinloc BESS is the first battery energy storage facility in the Philippines and one of the first in Southeast Asia.

How much does a battery energy storage system cost?

Larger facilities with higher energy demands will require more extensive and costly systems. Battery energy storage systems using lithium-ion technology have an average price of US$393 per kWh to US$581 per kWh. While production costs of lithium-ion batteries are decreasing, the upfront capital costs can be substantial for commercial applications.
