

Solar Photovoltaic Panel Project Agent

Overview

Why do you need a CX agent for solar PV?

Design considerations: Solar PV is a rapidly developing industry and relevant codes, standards, technologies and best practices are constantly evolving. An independent Cx agent can help the customer and developer navigate this changing landscape to design and construct the optimal PV system for the application.

What services does a solar project partner provide?

Construction Oversight – Partner provides structural, electrical, and engineering oversight and construction administration services to ensure the successful implementation of a solar system. Services include Construction Progress Monitoring, Funds Control/Funds Disbursement, and Completion Commitment.

What does a partner do for a solar PV system?

This includes on-site visual observations of the building and surrounding property, as well as conceptual site plans, preliminary layouts, and economic analyses for the proposed PV system. Partner will model the expected production of the system.

What is solar EPC project management?

Effective project management in Solar EPC is crucial for ensuring that solar installations are completed on time, within budget, and meet high-quality standards. In this guide, we'll walk you through a step-by-step overview of Solar EPC project management, breaking down each phase and detailing best practices for successful execution.

What is included in a solar project?

It includes a construction Document and Cost Review with options to expand its scope to fit the needs of your project, including consulting services such as a Contractor Evaluation, Financial Analysis, etc. Solar Feasibility Study – Partner’s solar experts can help clients determine the feasibility of a solar system for their facility.

How can a PV project be successful?

One way to improve the likelihood of successful PV projects is to incorporate thorough commissioning (Cx) processes into the specification, design and construction aspects of project development, as well as throughout the lifespan of the system.
